

partner profile nicholas poole

Nicholas' work is predominantly in relation to the provision of legal advice and services for SME's. Areas such as start-ups, buying and selling businesses, borrowing arrangements, sale and supply of goods and services, the employment of staff and much, much more are the basis of Nicholas' practice. Nicholas is particularly active in sales and acquisitions for the care home sector. He is a regular speaker on employment issues.

viewpoint

“ Law is a personal business. I work with a wide range of Clients on a variety of projects. However, whatever the task, it always comes down to the Client and me working together to get from A to B. The relationship side of our business is all important.

In large law firms, particularly with my type of work, Clients' work is frequently passed on from fee earners to junior team members for them to process and complete. That doesn't happen with me. If you see me you know that I will be dealing with the work. I am accessible and available. This personal aspect of the service is greatly appreciated by our Clients. ”

fact file

Specialist Areas	- Company, Commercial & Employment Law
Place of Birth	- Coventry
University	- University of Kent
Training	- London
Qualified	- 1986
Joined Latimer Hinks	- 1993
Partner since	- 1996

publications:

Legal 500 2009 - Corporate and Commercial

Nicholas heads the Latimer Hinks team, which acted on a multimillion-pound refinancing of a group of hotels.

Clients acknowledge the practice as 'one of the best in the local market'.

Listed in Legal Experts 2007, 2008, 2009.